BRR Architecture Recognized with 2008-2011 IDP Outstanding Firm Award

Merriam, KS – Architectural firm BRR Architecture, Inc., has recently been recognized with the 2008-2011 IDP Outstanding Firm Award. The Intern Development Program Advisory Committee (IDPAC) recognized five architectural firms from across the country whose intern development programs go above and beyond the baseline criteria for the National Council of Architectural Registration Boards (NCARB) IDP. The primary intention of the IDP award program is to encourage firms to be more active in the internship process by creating knowledge resources for emerging professionals and students.

BRR's unique program includes the implementation of an internal BRR Academy of Professional Development (BRR | apd) which operates both the firm's Intern Development Program (IDP) and their AIA/CES Registered Provider Program. Such a streamlined process has allowed this exceptional program to provide Interns with a clear path for success as they embark on becoming Registered Architects.

BRR provides superior architectural design and planning services with complementary core competencies such as renovation/re-model, interior architecture, prototype development, nationwide site adapts, 3D Graphics/previsualization, and entitlement.

With locations in Kansas City, Bentonville, Phoenix, San Francisco, Tampa, and Miami, BRR employs nearly 200 people nationwide. BRR is licensed in 49 states and has permitted projects in more than 3000 jurisdictions nationwide.
